Vision Doeve Brokers

Former inland waterway cargo vessel that was converted into a cruising houseboat after she was taken out of service. The engine was subsequently removed and the ship fell into a neglected state. Most of the interior has been removed and she is now ready to be converted into a beautiful houseboat, in which case she can also be shortened if necessary. The present drawings show the situation with what is possible after shortening. The underwater hull also needs to be brought up to standard. The seller can carry out all this work for a new owner, but the new owner can also be built up this future houseboat under his own management. When making the drawings, the Sluishuis project in Amsterdam was taken into account. But she will certainly also come into her own at another berth.
